

Coastal Woodlands

Coastal woodlands provide habitat and assist with erosion control and water filtration

Quick facts

- Swamp Paperbarks sit on the edge of swamps and provide shelter and food for bees and birds
- Large gum trees over 100 years old form hollows for possums and birds

What you can do

- Protect coastal woodlands on your property by fencing to prevent damage
- Stay on designated paths when visiting bush reserves
- Dispose of grass and plant cuttings in green waste bins for Council collection
